

4D Training

Lloyd's & London Market Introductory Test (LLMIT) Revision

Who would benefit?

This course is suitable to all those intending taking the Lloyd's and London Market Introductory Test (LLMIT) as the course provides a detailed revision of the syllabus.

Delegates will be expected to have studied the course book in its entirety prior to attending the training.

Objective

To assist delegates with their revision study and examination preparation providing a knowledge and understanding of basic principles and practice, the various organisations that make up the market and how the profession conducts business within the London Market.

Outline

- Address areas of delegates' concerns
- Basic insurance and legal principles
- The main classes of business transacted
- Knowledge and understanding of the use of reinsurance
- Regulatory requirements applicable to the London Market
- The structure of the London Market
- The Governance of Lloyd's
- Understand underwriting
- Understand broking
- Understand how business is transacted
- Understand accounts and claims services functions and process operating at market level.
- learn useful revision techniques and how to avoid common exam mistakes

Dates for Open Courses:

27 February 2012 (1 day) £235 per person

9 & 10 May 2012 (2 days) £325 per person

In-house/on-site courses available (maximum 14 delegates)

One day course £1,350

Two day course £2,500

Prices exclude VAT